From the Coach

At Bat

- Use the Home Run Derby™ mode for batting practice.

- As bunts are a little tricky, work on them after you have become used to regular swings and the speed of pitches.

Baserunning

- The fastest runners on your team are the best to use for long leadoffs and stealing bases. These players are easy to find in your roster—just look for the players with the most SB's (Stolen Bases).

Pitching

- Learn to utilize a variety of pitches. Though breaking balls and curves are often effective, some hitters do well against these pitches.

- The pick off move is useful to catch base runners leading off far from base, and crucial if you can get the third out when your opponent is threatening to score.

In the Field

- When first beginning play, concentrate on getting the ball to the bases first. Add diving, unassisted plays, and jumping for the ball gradually to your defense.

- Play with the Defense Mode set to AUTO when first learning to play.
